KANSAS-THE DAMAGE IN VARIOUS STATES

-ONE SPOT WHERE IT RAINED COWS. Br. Louis, April 23.—Special dispatches published here this morning abow that tornadoes and hall storms awept over a considerable part of western and south-western Masouri, southeastern Kansas and northern Arkansas on Thursday evening, causing great loss of life and destruction of property, as well as maining a life and destruction of property, as well as maining a large number of people.

In the lower part of Lynn County, Kansas, a regular funnel-shaped "twister" made a descent about 6 o'clock, seven miles northwest of Prescott. Every farmhouse in the path of the storm was demolished and almost every house in Prescott was ruined. Four miles from Prescott Mrs. Flynn's fine house was laid flat and Mrs. Flynn and three small children mortally injured and two visitors dangerously hurt. Jacob Brock, his wife and one son; William McPold, his wife and child, also of this vicinity, were tatally injured. A few miles from this place W. S. Bogat, Mrs. M. O'Dell, Mr. Hogan, his wite and two children, had taken refuge in a storm cellar, when eight cows fell on them through the roof and all were severely hurt. William Browinburg's family found refuge in a storm cave, while a house worth $5,000 was scattered over them through the root and all were severely hurt. William Browinburg's tamily found refuge in a storm cave, while a house worth $5,000 was scattered over the fields. Ten miles northwest of Prescott Mrs. Satah Crane was killed and her family injured by the crushing of the house. In a distance of twenty-two miles only one house is known to have stood the storm. H. C. Tripp, of Kansas City, was standing in the doerway of Manlove Bros.'s grocery store in Prescott, when the building was destroyed and he was killed. The tew buildings left standing in Prescott are stuck full of timbers. C. R. Underwood's house, the Baptist and Methodist churches, W. H. Billingsley's harness store, Perkin's meat market and the the Baptist and Methodist churches, W. H. Brilley's harness store, Perkin's meat market and the Prescott House are among the buildings that were destroyed. Nearly every house at Miami Junction, five miles north of Prescott, was blown down and several persons were injured. Seventeen persons are known to have been killed in Lynn County, and about fifts were have been killed in Lynn County, and about fifty were seriously wounded.

In Bourbon County, Kansas, reports are coming in slowly of terrible devastation. D. J. Field's farm was swept clean of buildings and live stock. Near by the Mills family was nearly exterminated, two children and the father and mother being killed. A nucce and child found barely alive will recover. The stone house of Samuel Coles was razed to the ground.

In Anderson County the tornado damaged the town of Colony. At Blue Mound, a town of 900 inhabitants, twenty houses were wrecked and two persons were killed.

It is reported that several persons were killed in Slue Mound and Mapleton. Joseph Duncen's house was hurled away in the midst of a wedding ceremony, but the party found refuge in the cellar and escaped injury.

In Bates and Vernon Counties, Missouri, the destruction was great, west and south of Rich Hill the storm raged with violence and its track is strewn for miles raged with violence and its track is strewn for miles with crushed and splintered dwellings and out-houses, dead animals and poulity, bed-clothing, wearing apparel and all kinds of farm property. The estimated loss to property is upward of $100,000. Six were killed near the towns of Hume and Sprague, and a large number seriously and some fatally hurt. Humble Station, on the Pacific road, was destroyed, only one-house being left standing. Dr. Smith's house, three miles from Rich Hill, was blown to pieces, and Mrs. Smith was fatally injured. Her daughter-inlaw, Mrs. Ryau, and her two children, were also badly hurt. Two hired men were also injured. All the stables and granaries on the Bruce place were demolished. At the Miller farm, three miles west of Sprague, a fine house, barns and out houses were destroyed, nine cattle, a number of hogs and other stock killed, and Mr. Miller and his wite and baby blown into the well and drowned. The farm-houses of the following persons are entirely destroyed: Samuel Porter. George Hilber, L. Marenon, J. Baugh, H. Oveman, George Daniels, M. Gandeig, Samuel Bealy, L. C. Robinson, William Betty and William Pettit. The house of Mr. Pettit was burned. William Kennel's house was blown down and then burned. Mrs. Kennel had a narrow escape from burning, as she was caught under some timber and was only rescend by the heroic efforts of her husband. The Montgomery and Queen Ridge school-houses were wrecked. The Methodist Episcopal Church at Sprague was demolished. B. F. Baker & Co.'s lumber was scattered over the prairie in every direction. The house of the following persons are destroyed: Mrs. Mainscotte, William Graven, Mrs. Riley, Wesley Meeker, Hainline's blackemith shop and Smith Bassett's livery stables.

A dispatch from Guenville says that region was visited by a terrible thunder storm, followed by heavy hall that killed live stock and iajured many colored persons in Bolivar County.

The town of Huntington was nearly demolished, a new hotel, Robertson's store and dwelling. Werrick rith crushed and splintered dwellings and out-houses,

Reports from Blossom Ptairie, Texas, say that a gale there on Thursday destroyed the dwellings of B. Sansing and T. M. Harraway, and the stores of Brewer & Sansing, Thomas Moody & Co., H. C. Byrne & Co., Hancock & Byrne, Brantley's, T. M. Harraway, Nowood & Co., Coil's gin and planing mill and the hall of the Knights of Honor.

EVANSVILLE, Ind., April 23.—Last night a tornado passed up White River, crossing the Evansville and Terre aute Railroad at Hazleton, thirty-eight miles north of this place, doing great damage to property and killing James H. Knott, a fisherman, and Scott Selby, a mechanic, and fatally injuring another man. Large quantities of corn in cribs were blown into the river. In the small village of West Buena Vista only three houses remained uninjured.

WORK OF THE FLOOD AT MONTREAL. MONTREAL, April 23.—The water has failen nearly a foot since I a. m. and it is still going down. In Port St. Charles and Griffintown the residents suffer most. This morning a reliet committee started out with supplies of provisions for the imprisoned people, who are unable to get on dry land unless by boats. The Star was the only get on dry land unless by boats. The Salv was the only English newspaper which it was possible to print in its own office. The others. The Gazzite, Herald, Wilness and Post, had to be printed elsewhere. In some localities of Griffintown the water reached the second stories of the houses. Bonaventare depot has five feet of water and all trains leave from St. Henry. There is no appearance of the ice gorke giving way and the flood may be expected to last for some days.

THE OHIO AND ITS TRIBUTARIES RISING. CINCINNATI, April 23.—The unusually heavy rains of the last day or two, culminating last night, have been general in Ohio, Kentucky and West Virginia, and the general in Ohio, Kentucky and West Virginia, and the tributaries of the Ohio River in these States are all swellen. The Ohio River here at neon was forty-five feet and rising three inches an hour. Reports from above, as far as Point Pleasant, W. Va., show it to be rising rapidly. It will undoubtedly reach over fifty-two feet, which will submerge Mill Creek Valley and destroy the crops of market gardeners, as well as disturb cellars in the lower part of the city. A washout on the Pan Handie road near Loveland threw a freight train off the track this morning, and all trains are delayed.

FOG OVERHEAD AND MUD UNDERNEATH.

The storm which arrived here about midnight Frichy continued all day yesterday and put many people in a bad temper. New-York was shrouded in log from daylight until sundown, and the streets were muddy and slippery, making travel either on foot or wheels anything but pleasant. The storm had its headquarters in the Northwest, where it made preparations for descending upon the East several days ago. On its way here it went south as far as Louisville and then took a northerly course. The body of the storm went to the north of this city, but the southern edge made the city about as disagreeable as any one wanted it. There was no material change in the temperature. The mercury went down a few degrees, but not enough to cause any inconvenience from the cold. The Weather Bureau reports that ta-day will be fair with lower temperature. IS ARTHUR S. AUSTIN INSANE?

THE SHERIFF'S JURY UNABLE TO DECIDE THE QUESTION.

The Sheriff's jury which has been investigating the tion whether Arthur S. Austin, the eccentric man rom Vermout, who made a fortune in specu-ating in town lots in Birmingham, Alabama, lating in town lots in Birmingham, Alabama, and was so lavish with his money after his return to New-York that his wife thought that prosperily had turned his head, found it impossible to agree yesterday as to the condition of his simind and after an hour's deliberation was discharged. Prior to the final deliberation was discharged prior to the final deliberation was discharged to the closing testimony in the case. Drs. Albert B. Whitmay and Thomas Cleeland gave it as their opinion that he was entirely sane. Emil Paff, the champion qualiseter, at whose place in West Twenty-sixthet. Mr. Anstin had rooms and board for awhile, explained his eccentricities by referring them to his copious libations of brandy. Mr. Austin's bill at his place of entertainment for five weeks' board, lodging, liquor and clgars, with a little money loaned now and then, amounted to S257. He thought at one time that the man was a little "of," but was now convinced that he was rational. E. M. Gattle, jeweller, of No. 1,167 Broadway, said that while Mr. Austin had purchased diamonds worth $500 and other trifles of him, some of which he had given as a syndence of indanty. STRICT MILITARY RULES..

OFFICERS AND EXAMINING BOARDS.

ORDERS FOR NATIONAL GUARD RIFLE PRACTICE-ELECTING A MAJOR.

Regulations of the most stringent character have been issued from the Adjutant-General's office in regard to the examination of newly selected officers of the Na-tional Guard, and if they are strictly carried out, all who receive commissions hereafter must first establish, to the satisfaction of the examining boards, that they are mentally, morally and physically qualified, and that they have a fair amount of general information and of knowledge of the duties of the offices that they are about to assume. Commanding officers of brigades are authorized to appoint for their respective commands boards of examination, announcing in general orders the appointment and composition of each board. On receipt of the return of election or appointment of an officer, the bri-gade commander is to order him to appear for examination. Boards of examination are to meet immediately after appointment and arrange their method of procedure. Not less than three members must be present at an examination, which may be postponed once for not more than one month on the application of a candidate, if the reasons adduced appear satisfactory. The candidate is to be examined as to his place of birth and age; the date. place and manner of admission to citizenship, if not a native citizen of the United States; whether or not be has been adversely reported upon by any military examining board, dishonorably discharged, dismissed or cashiered from any military service whatsoever, or convicted of felony. Then is to follow an examination as to qualification in the cases of chaplains, medical officers, judge-advocates, inspectors of rifle practice, engineers and colonels of the line. Then follows examination into the candidate's moral character, honesty and sobriety and physical qualification for service; if there be no medical officer on the board, the latter may require the medical officer on the board, the latter may require the candidate to be examined by a medical officer of the | P.M—Sandy Hook. 8:33 | Gov. 1st d. 8:34 | Hell Gats. 10:23 National Guard, if it be deemed advisable. The board may call for evidence on any one or all of these points. Should the result of the inquiry be unsatisfactory on any one of these points, the examination shall at once be disontinued and the ascertained fact, or facts, be reported to the brigade commander.

The examination of a candidate as to his knowledge of English grammar, reading and writing, geography, arithmetic, history, military code and regulations, sedentary duties and tactics of his arm of service, may be divided among the members of the board to expedite matters. The examination is to be oral, except where the nature of the subject requires it to be in writing. The questions asked should not become stereotyped, and must never be put in print. On each of the subjects named there shall be placed a possible maximum of 100, and no candidate all be reported favorably who does not obtain in this examination an average of 75 per cent at least; unless he be appointed or elected from civil life, in which case the board may report him favorably even if below that average, if his intelligence, knowledge and interest in military matters make it appear that he will make a good officer. The examination ended, the board will at once report on the return of election or appointment to the brigade commander. Any candidate inquiring for its finding or his standing will be referred by the board or its members to that officer. The board having reported favorably, the brigade commander will forward the return of election or appointment and the completed statement to the Adjutant-General. If the candidate shall have been adjudged unqualified, the brigade commander will give notice of such adverse decision and issue the necessary directions to have another person elected or appointed, except where the candidate has been found not to be a citizen of the United States, or not to be of the legal age, in which cases the papers are to be referred to the Adjutant-General's office for the action of the Com

Adjutant Wallace A. Downs, of the 71st Regiment, was elected Major of that command last Tuesday night. The result was a great surprise to some of the officers. The friends of Captain I., Frank Barry, of Company I, and of Captain Wright D. Goss, of Company K, both of whom were regarded as strong candidates, had united in sup-porting the former, and felt certain of his election before the ballot was taken. There were charges of bad faith against some of the officers, who were accused of having violated solemn pledges made in caucus, but all the offi-

Major Downs was made Adjutant of the 16th Battalion on December 28, 1874; became Major on August 8, 1876; was discharged on April 28, 1880; and was appointed Adjutant of the 71st Regiment on September 28, 1886.

Orders for rifle practice for the current season have been issued by Adjutant-General Porter. Every officer and enlisted man, excepting officers and men of batteris not armed with rifles and musicians, will be required to practise at times and places to be designated in orders by brigade commanders. It is provided that when a command has had an opportunity for a first general practice, commander may, upon the application of its immediate commanding officer, appoint a subsequent day, or days, for voluntary practice. The netual cost of transportation, but in me case to exceed 56 cents, will be allowed for every officer and attending the first general practice of This organization, provided that the distance to its nearest available range is more than three miles. Additional practice must be free of expense to the State.

The State prize will be competed for at Creedmoor as usual. The brigade company in each brigade having the highest general figure of merit. A prize of a value not to exceed $50 will be awarded the company in each brigade baving the highest general figure of merit. The first general practice should be completed before August 1, but must be completed before September 15 next. Fractice for the season will close November 12 next, and no scores made after that date will be recognized. Field practice books fully written up must be sent to the General Inspector of Rifle Fractice, No 8 Coenties Silp, New-York, on or before November 20, 1887.

[Colonel John T. Camp, of the 22d Regiment, calls the attention of the members of the command in orders to the gratifying progress that has been made in relation to the proposed new regimental armory, and says he feels justified in expressing the confident belief that the time cannot be far off when the regiment will become the permanent occupant of fitting and commodious quarters, admirably suited to its necessities and mercing in all respects the highest anticipations of its officers and members. The site having been selected and purchased, the architectural structure and design adopted, the necessary appropriations made and provided for, the plans and specifications approved and the requisite steps taken toward awarding the contract for the creation of the building, it is regarded as reasonably ecrtain that the foundations will be begin within the next few weeks.

The Veteran Corps of the 69th Regiment will give an entertainment and reception at the armory to norrow evening, in commemoration of the twenty-sixth anniversary of the departure of the regiment for the war. This command achieved a splendid record in the field, and its numerous friends will doubtless fill the armory to overflowing on this occasion. Colonel Thomas Lynch is president of the Veteran Corps. The committee of arrangements consists of Surgeon William O'Meagher, chairman; Colonel M. C. Murphy and Captains F. J. Brady and John Stacen.

birds soon disappeared and the rings in which the various features which have proved so attractive during the past six weeks, were soon littered with ropes, beces and performing tubs.

The various waxons, glided charlots and other vehicles were quickly covered with canvas and drawn out into the street much to the disapst of the crowd that had stood about the Fourth-ave, door in order to catch a glimpse at least of the highly decorated charlots. The 460 men which comprised the working force of the show worked with method and in a short the garden was atripped of the most interesting part of the circus.

About 11 o'clock the crowd which had waited so patiently in the rain in the neighborhood of the Garden were rewarded by the approach of the elephants, camels and other animals which had been housed in the American Institute building. The approach was announced by the lond trumpelings of the elephants which were answered by shouts of "Hiere dey come, cully." "Git onter de elephants of the clephants which were answered by shouts of "Hiere dey come, cully." "Git onter de elephants and kindred ejaculations of the ubiquatous small boy. At the garden these animals were joined by the performing elephants and the eaged animals and the procession started through Twenty-sixia-st. to Broadway, thence through a hambers-st. to the Bridge.

The procession reached the Bridge without incident and passed safely over. It was led by the camels and the rear was brought up by Alice and her baby. LECTURES ON LITERARY SUBJECTS. and not a few gentlemen gathered in the lecture-room of the Columbia College horary yesterday to listen to lectures upon literary subjects. At 10 s. m. Professor G. A. Scribner delivered an interesting lecture on the "Methods of Studying Literature," Among other things he said: "It will be of benefit to you all, in your study of literature, to study the National march.

Study in this order: First, lyric works, then spie, theu tragedy and comedy, then historical works, and lastly, the things by which you are surrounced every day. Begin at home, and having studied carefully the literature of your own country, compare the great genius of English literature with foreign geniuses, and thus you will become really familiar with your own greatness as a literary nation."

At 11:30 Dr. B. F. O'Connor lectured upon "The Chauson da Roland," He recited a number of pasaages from translations of the French, and described the poem as an epic, with a majestic sweep of style, in which the nationality of feeling is strong, while a concrete form is given to the emotional.

In the atternoon the lecture by Dr. Ainsworth R. Spodord, librarian of Congress, upon "What to Read, When to Read, and How to Read" attracted an sudicence which completely filled the ample fecture hall. Dr. Spofford told his hearers to "beware of the man with one book," but not to try to read everything leat they gam nothing. He viewed the so-called "courses of reading" with distrust, and told his hearers to "read when you like, the book you like, and you will not go amiss." He advised them to learn the value of "spare minutes," to concentrate their thought while reading, and above all, to take for their motto "non multa, sed multum."

SUICIDE OF A BUSINESS MAN. BOSTON, April 23 (Special).—John Wales, a well-known pusiness man, died at the City Hospital to-day from laudanum, which he had taken with suicidal intent. He was formerly in the dry goods business with the firm of Spalding, Hay & Wales. The firm failed a few years ago and Mr. Wales attempted unsuccessfully to carry on business in a new place. He then took charge of the Kate Field Co-operative store in New-York, and later was employed by Waunanker, of Philadelphia, and by Shepard, Norvell & Co., of Boston.
